38 HARVARD RIOTERS HELD UNTIL FRIDAY

Thirty-eight Harvard students, several of them with heads battered by police night-sticks, pleaded not guilty today in East Cambridge District Court to charges growing out of a hectic riot in Harvard square shortly after midnight in which nearly 1,000 students participated and ten persons were injured.

Two policemen were hurt in the rioting, one of them seriously. Seven students and one non-college man, who claims to have been an innocent passer-by, were badly bruised by police clubs.

SHE'S AFTER HIS MILLION, SAYS ATTORNEY

New York, Feb. 12 (U.S.A.)—Charles Chaplin, the film comedian, was delighted today over a dispatch from Los Angeles to the effect that his estranged wife, the former Lita Gray, had asked permission of the superior court to return to the Beverly Hills mansion of her husband because of her professional inability to pay rent on the house she occupies.

"That's wonderful," Nathan Burkan, New York attorney of the comedian, exclaimed after reading the dispatch to his client. Chaplin has been staying at the Burkan home on Fifth avenue since his arrival some weeks ago.

"Let her return," Burkan went on. "Let her return to the beautiful home she left of her own free will and accord. She was not asked to leave and Mr. Chaplin was lenient of her intentions until she left without warning."

The lawyer expressed the conviction, however, that Mrs. Chaplin's appeal to the court was "merely a publicity stunt to gain sympathy of the public, in an effort to wreck Mr. Chaplin's career and dismember his name by showing he is neglecting his children."

"A million dollars is what she's after, if she could get it she would be willing to forget her fancied wrongs."

An extensive and energetic wave of cold reached Greater Boston today for the week-end.

LAWYER CHARGES BISHOP HELPED DIVERT FUNDS

Providence, Feb. 12 (U.S.A.)—Attorney Ephraim J. DiGianni of Woonsocket today filed ten complaints against Rt. Rev. William A. Hickey, bishop of the Roman Catholic diocese, charging that he had diverted funds paid to church charities by the Rhode Island legislature to his private bank accounts.

The charges are based on a report that the bishop had received $100,000 from the legislature for the purpose of establishing a fund for the relief of the poor, but that he had instead used the money for his private expenses.

STATE TO FIGHT REVALUATION SCHEMES

In a letter to Governor Henry C. Aldrich of the public utilities commission today, Governor Miller announced action of public utility corporations in trying to revalue property on a replacement basis and called for a plan "having less than existing law."

The governor made public the letter to the commission when asked what he had to say about the Commission Electric Light Company's plan of doing this. The letter said:

"I am not a lawyer, but I believe the revaluation scheme amounts to nothing but ending the public utility corporations in trying to revalue their property on a replacement basis. This is a plan to rob the public of its property."

He said he was opposed to any attempt of a public utility corporation to value its property not at what it cost but at what it would cost to replace it. He insisted the revaluation that the state would have against such a move in the future "even if it becomes necessary to sue the corporation."

MANY GIVE AID TO RESTITUTE OF MAYNARD

Responding to the appeal of the Boston Evening American, Boston concerns today brought aid to destitute victims of unemployment at Maynard.

While in Boston many charitable folk hastened to aid the families of the Maynard victims, the appeal by giving twenty-five cents from his store.

Albert Daye and Harry Bornstein, partners in the Boston Boys' Clothing Company, No. 12 Essex street, Boston, were among the first to give generous donations.

Twenty suits of ironside clothing were given to the shivering youngsters through the kindness of these two men.

W. J. Evans of the American Adjustment Service, at No. 48 Clinton street, Boston, mailed a check for $5 to help the Maynard kiddies.

This is the spirit of Boston in response to the call of the city.

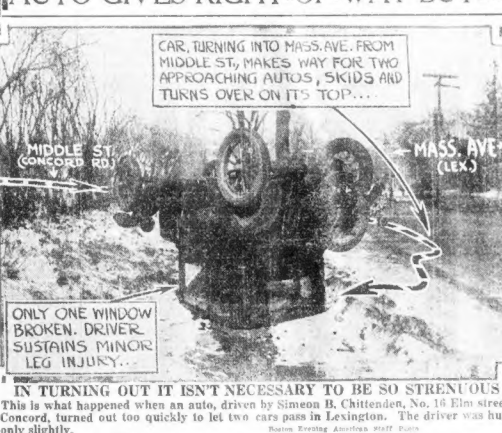

There are a lot more coming too. The Boston Evening American will transport all donations of food and clothing to Maynard and will see that they are properly distributed.

If you want to do your little bit for the kids, call or write the City Editor of the Boston Evening American.

The Salvation Army brought aid, including food, clothing and fuel, today. Maynard's children are disgruntled because the families, who have been trying to sustain on $5 a week, did not asked to them, but in reply the victims of the unemployment situation pointed out that the town knew all well their plight but did not help.

LEVIATHAN IN DOCK; GUESTS TOUR HARBOR

Noled in by three navy tug and a fleet of commercial tug, the Leviathan today entered the South Boston harbor, bringing Thomas V. O'Connor, chairman of the sailing board and a large party of officials to this port.

In one hour two hours the ship was fast, and considerable water poured from the dock as the workmen swarmed aboard for the semi-annual reconditioning.

The official party was met at the wharves by Frank H. Davis, manager of the Maritime Association, George H. Johnson, representing Mayor Nichols and Brigadier General Arthur C. Dalton, president of the Emergency Food Corporation.

The party boarded autos and moved to the City Hotel, where they will make their headquarters until Monday night, guests of the Maritime Association.

Among those making the trip from New York were Commodore Robert K. Smith, William A. Hill, Philip R. Taylor and Jefferson Myers with their wives; Mrs. Arthur C. Dalton, wife of General Dalton; Commodore James A. Gallivan, Henry J. Fanning, Vice-President, and James A. Wilson, director of operations, U. S. Shipping Board, and Mrs. Herbert Hartley, wife of the Captain of the Leviathan, were also aboard for the trip.

At 2 P. M. the men toured the harbor on the police tug Thurston, leaving Northern avenue bridge while the women went on a short automobile ride.

Later all were tea guests of George B. Hawley, president of C. F. Hawley & Sons Inc., in which 12 ships in the South American trade recently were allocated by the Shipping Board. A theatre party was scheduled for tonight.

COBB AND SPEAKER SALARY TALK BUNK

If the shouting about baseball salaries doesn't die down, Tris Speaker and Ty Cobb will be tearing up their contracts and demanding new ones. According to the widespread reports Tris and Ty are getting $75,000 each for playing this year.

That's applause. If either gets half that sum, he's the luckiest athlete in the universe. Speaker was in wrong in Cleveland because he pulled down something like $40,000 as joint manager and player. His salary devoured the profits.

Cobb drew about $40,000 as Tiger leader. That price was one of the reasons Navin was so willing to let him go when the scandal rumor popped up.

Both of the old boys will be good drawing cards, in the early part of the new campaign. But they will not pack them in afterwards if they don't play great baseball. It would take a year up to the best that either has produced to manufacture a big box office attraction.

His legs went back on him, and he spent most of the campaign on the sidelines. A new contract will not put the elastic back in the props. Those legs have pounded around the base paths too often over the years.

Speaker was able to go through the last scramble, but he wasn't as fast as he used to be. Nor did he hit as well. Spike is still a great outfielder, but no better than quite a few others that might be mentioned. Three or four boys we might mention who receive less than ten grand, which is $10,000, are more valuable ball players now.

The exoneration made the two stars heroes again, but it didn't give them back youth.

TRACK ROWS ALWAYS CHILDISH AFFAIRS

THERE is not exactly the spirit of sportsmanship in the conduct of our athletic officials as regards foreign athletes. The boys were given the run around by Charlie Hoff. He came as an amateur, cracked all the records, and then told the bosses to chase themselves, no words to that

That was a severe shock to their dignity, so it must not be permitted to happen again. Edwin Wide, here from Sweden, is told that he can appear in but three or four meets. There's nothing contrary to the amateur spirit in his running every night in the week if he feels that way. And the referee can see to it that he doesn't get paid. And the referee in control should end right there. Imagine the howl that would arise in these parts if one of our track stars slipped across the pond, and then was not permitted to try to lick the European champions.

Most track races are childish, and the Wide Jan trials run right along. If it is a 100-yard race, the winner is the first to get to the end. And a few others and make professional track athletes pay as much as the recent tennis circus did.

TEX RICKARD is staging a fan's elimination contest. He has something like 100,000 requests for 13,000 seats. The Maloney quarrel Friday will shatter all indoor records. And the Sharkey-McTigue row that follows will probably tie the new mark. If it keeps up, Texas will have to build a new garden and roof in Central Park.

BOGASH MAY DROP FLOWERS

It having become almost impossible to obtain seats to the Jim Maloney-Jack Delaney match at Madison Square Garden many fans have indicated that they will turn out for the Tiger Flowers-Lou Bognach bout at Mechanics Building.

Realizing that many are unable to obtain the coveted passbooks for the Delaney-Maloney mixup, the new Arzone A. A., known as "The Battle Field of Action," has arranged to have a special mixup run from the Garden to Mechanics Building. The returns of the Maloney-Delaney battle will be given out round by round.

Many believe that Flowers is far from the dusky demon that won over Bogash in their last meeting in Boston. Great as the Tiger was on that occasion, Bogash had him on the floor five times and, had Lou been in any kind of condition, might have finished the Georgia Torpedo. This trip many will string along with Bogash to turn the trick and

Speaker was able to go through the last scramble, but he wasn't as fast as he used to be. Nor did he hit as well. Spoke is still a great outfielder, but no better than quite a few others that might be mentioned. Three or four have no wish to mention him.

TRACK ROWS ALWAYS CHILDISH AFFAIRS

THERE is not exactly the spirit of sportsmanship in the conduct of our athletic officials as regards foreign athletes. The boys were given the run around by Charlie Hoff. He came as an amateur, cracked all the records, and they told the boys to chase themselves or words to that effect.

The amateur races can see to it that he doesn't get paid. And their control should end right there. Imagine the howl that would arise if these parts if one of our track stars slipped across the ground, and then was not permitted to try to lick the European champions.

Most track rows are childish, and the Wide Jam trails right along. If the boys don't watch out some Pyle will appear, get Hoff, Wide and

SNAPPED AT LONG BRANCH, N. J. CAMP

Long Branch, N. J., Feb. 12.—Jimmy Maloney, Boston heavy title contender who meets Jack Delaney, light heavyweight champion, in Madison Square Garden, New York, next Friday night, is undergoing a rigid course of training here at Jimmie De Forest's camp.

Experts who have watched him in action say that he will give a good account of himself against Delaney. Maloney expects to get his weight down to about 190 for the fight.

In his sparring Maloney shows that he is a master of ring generalship. His walking right hook, followed by a snappy right and left series, is well developed, and his fighting is also worthy of note. He is not only a good boxer, but he is able to play with the best of them.

The day's routine opens each morning with road work. Maloney covers four miles, and in the afternoon works out under the small bag and then the large bag, working two rounds against each. He then works with two rounds of shadow boxing, after which he boxes two rounds each with Jack McKeown and Eddie Madden, sparring partners.

He finishes his afternoon training by running up, after which he takes a shower bath. Jimmie De Forest, who has trained some of the best fighters in the world, is well pleased with the progress that Maloney is making, and he predicts big things for the coming year.

Tom Loughran of Philadelphia also is also training here at De Forest's camp, having boxed three rounds with Kirby of Boston. Kirby also appears on the bill at the Garden Feb. 13. Loughran and Kirby are both following practically the same routine of training that is followed daily by Maloney.

HOPPE GAINS LEAD OVER COCHRAN IN TITLE MATCH

Willie Hoppe, world's champion flyweight boxer, defeated Walter Cochrane of California more than three to one in the second block at the Elks Hotel and leads 1-0 in the third round of the title match.

In the third round, Cochrane led 2-0 in order to avoid the possibility of a knockout. But Hoppe, who is a much better boxer than Cochrane, was closely hunched at the head of the table.

Harry Kelley Now Fuller's Trainer

Sammy "Pancho" Fuller, hard-hitting bantamweight, is training in the hands of Harry Kelley, of Kelley & Flory Gymnasium, at 200 N. 2nd St. at the Bowdoin square gymnasium. Fuller, the American Pancho Villa, is training for his long-awaited bout with "Red" Cummings, to be decided at the Arena a week from Monday night, under the direction of the Star Talk & A.

Tommy Yaloff, manager of Fuller, has made a nice move in placing Fuller in the hands of Kelley, the best man in regard to one of the best conditioners of boxers in New England.

Women Golfers Talk of Revolution

By DAVID J. WALSH
International News Service Staff Editor

New York, Feb. 12.—Rebellion against what they believed to be the absolute despotism of the United States Golf Association was in the air today as women golfers discussed the possibility of seceding from the union with the Mary K. Browne case as an issue.

They claim that the U. S. G. A. is a monopoly, and that the women should have a say in the management of the game. They are planning to form a new organization, the Women's Golf Association, which will be independent of the U. S. G. A.

The women are planning to hold a convention in New York City in the near future, at which time they will discuss the possibility of seceding from the U. S. G. A. They are also planning to hold a tournament in New York City in the near future, at which time they will discuss the possibility of seceding from the U. S. G. A.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Gay Moore and Christine Noe, her cousin, are employed at the State Street Gas & Ice Station. Both Gay, a typist and Christine as telephone operator. Christine is in love with Reginald Baird's son, Christine's cousin, and with a boy named Barry in order to arouse Penny's jealousy. Stanley's sister, who lives down town when he marries Gay, they depict a stark home-coming scene. Stan's mother, who is a very religious woman, is shocked to find that Christine is jealous of Penny. But Stanley's sister and Gay feel that Stanley has been misled, and when Mrs. Brooks, a girl of his own Back Bay set, Stanley's cousin, comes to see him in his apartment and has a talk with him, Penny comes to see Gay and she tells him he is going to change his life. Christine is afraid to do so otherwise for time would tell that she and Christine and Penny are in love.
